NEW IDEAS

EVERY WORKPLACE NEEDS A BIT OF OPENNESS

Wonder what's common between leading organizations & innovators of the world?

Apart from creating products and services that are enjoyed by billions of people across the globe, these companies are breaking the mould by building inspiration into everyday workplace experience.

This is highlighted in The Gensler's Workplace Survey which shows that top performing companies have accepted physical work environment as an important asset that can have a quantifiable impact on the success of business.

Gensler's Workplace Survey | 32% average time spent by employees collaborating.

MIT Research | 5 times more likely to turn to another individual for information

By encouraging knowledge sharing through collaboration and regular interactions among employees, top performing companies are known to have established significantly higher-performing work environment than average companies.

- Seamless flow of communication
- Fostering team spirit
- Positive inter-office vibe & dynamism
- Creation of Innovative ideas
- Enhanced productivity

OPEN UP TO THE IDEA OF NEWNESS

Open up to innovation
To unlock the potential of your people & make them future ready

Open up to ideas
For a more versatile, engaging, productive & empowered workforce.

Open up to culture
Diversity plus inclusivity is the key to success. And a workplace that promotes cultural acceptance always wins.

Open up to togetherness
Interaction, collaboration & thinking together fosters transparency; which in turn boosts interpersonal relationships, communication & higher levels of job satisfaction.

WHY EMBRACE OPEN WORKSPACES?

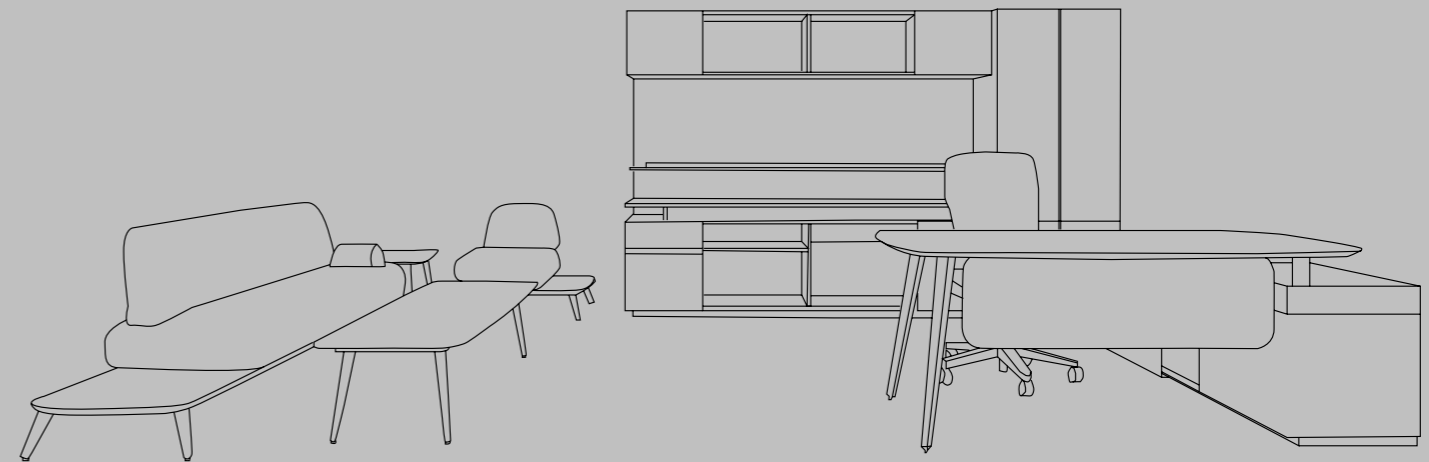

As we place less and less value on space as a status marker and more on its functionality and ability to meet our needs, we move away from status-based space allocations to function-based space allocation – causing us to have to consider what kinds and how much of each space we need to support what we do.

OPEN OFFICE ZONES

Changes are taking place in spaces for group activities or heads down, "getting-away-from-it-all" work - they're expanding in both variety and quantity. These may be either open or enclosed, located in "public" areas or within a team's own neighborhood, fixed or meant to be easily rearranged. They may have names like "huddle," "war," or "scrum" rooms. They may just be some soft seating in a nook near a great view, or an open area provisioned with a mobile monitor and multi-level seating.

OPEN UP' is the new demand.
OPEN UP' is the new trend!
